East Midlands Regional Management Board on the world wide web

The East Midlands Regional Management Board (EMRMB), the joint committee in charge of overseeing regional developments within the fire and rescue services in the East Mids, now has its own website (www.emrmb-fire.gov.uk)

The Chair of the RMB, Coun Peter Roffey, said: "It's important that all of our staff, partner organisations, the public and the media have access to information about what the RMB is discussing and deciding. Although we meet in public in reality it is difficult for many people to come along - but now people can up to date of all of board's business on-line.

"We want to be as open and accountable as possible, so all of our agendas, minutes and reports, along with our business plans can accessed from our new website."

The site also features details of all of the RMB's aims and objectives, details of members of the RMB, a latest news section and a glossary of technical terms.

So keep up to date with fire and rescue service developments across the East Midlands by visiting www.emrmb-fire.gov.uk
